Most Costly Strike In Maritime History Ends After 98-Day Walkout

San Francisco, Feb. 4.—(AP)—The most costly maritime strike in American history ended at 2:45 p.m. (PST) today on a call expected to send 4,000 men and 239 ships into a scramble for long-lost jobs and trade beginning tomorrow.

Union leaders signalled the end of the record breaking 98-day walkout after reporting overwhelming worker approval of tentative agreements negotiated through months of haggling.

Cheers sounded along the rain-drenched waterfront as thousands of men, standing by in anticipation, witnessed the decision.

Employers, too busy to comment immediately, moved to make quick getaways with ships all ready for the sea.

MILITIAMEN OF MADRID GAINING AGAINST REBELS

Capture Strategic Position Near Park Edge

Report Insurgent Forces Being Pushed Back in North

Madrid, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Capture of Escalerilla ("Little Stairway"), strategic position near the edge of Madrid's west park, by Madrid militiamen was reported tonight in an official bulletin.

The government reported the capture of defenders, taking the offensive, made two advances west of their city.

In the first, they fought toward the Del Amo student residence in a push in which they withstood three fierce counter-attacks.

In the second, they advanced toward a railroad on the lower part of the West Park where Escalerilla is situated.

The West Park officially was declared free of Fascist insurgents a week ago.

The official bulletin also reported bitter fighting in progress in Cuesta de La Reina, an important position on the Madrid-Aranjuez road which dominates the town of Aranjuez and the whole valley below.

(Aranjuez is 28 miles south-southeast of Madrid.)

It said the engagement was the third in Cuesta de La Reina.

On the Guadalajara front, northeast of the capital, the bulletin reported Fascist artillery at La Toba shelled government positions.

The government reported its forces were pushing gradually into insurgent territory of the north, and the Socialist troops were also taking the offensive in the southern sectors of Cordoba and Granada.

The Socialist government at Valencia, meanwhile, took moves to change radically the status of Spanish women. The government promulgated a decree establishing equal rights for women and abolishing archaic privileges of husbands, supplementing the Spanish constitution.

The decree, drafted by the anarchist Minister of Justice Garcia Oliver, gave women the right to possess property, the right to make contracts independently of husbands and defined women's marital status as completely equal with her husband.

WITH R. E. LEE

MARY PICKFORD ILL

Hollywood, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Mary Pickford underwent an operation at St. Vincent's hospital in Los Angeles today after a week's illness. Associates said she would be able to leave the hospital next week.

ESTIMATE HOMELESS

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 4.—(AP)—The state department of health estimated today that the homeless in the southern Illinois flood area does not exceed 30,000.

Rabies is a far greater danger now than typhoid fever," Dr. Jirka said, asserting that the number of stray dogs in the vicinity and concentration of refugees makes possible a great deal of damage by uncontrolled rabid dogs.

FIND KIDNAP SUSPECT SUICIDE IN JAIL CELL

Auburn, Wash., Feb. 4.—(AP)—John F. Johnson, 40, jailed last Friday for questioning about the kidnap-killing of 10-year-old Charles Mattson, was found dead in his cell today, his belt around his neck and tied to his cot.

Police Chief Ed Norris and Coroner's Deputy George W. Scott said the man undoubtedly killed himself.

Johnson, arrested in the "hobo jungles" here on complaint of transients who said he appeared mentally unbalanced and might know something about the Tacoma case, denied any knowledge of the crime. He appeared to brood over his plight.

Colonel Charles Lindbergh Observes Birthday in Rome

Rome, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh spent his 35th birthday in the eternal city today.

Although earlier it had been expected he and Mrs. Lindbergh would continue their air tour, probably flying southward on their way to visit General Italo Balbo in Tripoli, the flying couple remained tonight at the home of Dean Chester H. Aldrich of the American Academy on the Janiculum hill.

There was no indication when they would continue their journey, the destination of which is reported to be Cairo, although mechanics refueled their orange and black monoplane today.

What flying was done by distinguished airmen in the Rome area was done by two Italians.

TIRED DEFENDERS OF CITY CHEERED BY FALL OF OHIO

Cairo's First Damage Comes As Result Of Sandboil

Recession of River is Fractional; Still in Danger

Cairo, Ill., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Slowly it rose, the Ohio fell tonight and Cairo's weary defenders saw victory, almost on the instant the first flood damage came to the dike-in city.

Neither the damage nor the river's slow recession amounted to much, but they served to show Cairo the havoc that could have been.

Inch fractions told army engineers that the tide of battle had turned in their favor. The swollen river—still at the highest stage in its history—coursed along almost on the level with Cairo's bulkheaded 60-foot seawall. But the engineers measured a fall of a quarter of an inch in four hours.

"We are not expecting any further rise," said Strike Publicity Chairman Henry Schmidt. That was the only direct announcement to come from the room where union leaders reached their decision.

Returns from union referenda showed huge majorities for ratification of tentative agreements assuring the workers generally of higher wages, union control of hiring agencies, the 8-hour day or less and adjusted working conditions.

One of the seven unions, the Marine Firemen, rejected its tentative accord, but members voted in favor of arbitrating differences with employers.

The union's negotiators moved to draw up a special contract enabling the firemen to work pending adjustment.

Longshoremen flocked to the harbor area intent on capture of the first jobs to be filled.

DECIDE AGAINST ASKING PERKINS ABOUT STRIKES

House Tables Resolution Leading To Inquiry

Washington, Feb. 4.—(AP)—The House backed Secretary Perkins today and tabled a resolution asking her to divulge any information she has about the General Motors strike.

The action followed a statement by Chairman Connelly (D-Mass.) of the labor committee, agreeing with Miss Perkins that the resolution was "one-sided" and would bring forth only confidential information received from the workers' side.

Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich.), who sponsored the resolution, replied that the employer phase of the strike was being treated by the Senate Civil Liberties Committee.

Meanwhile the United Automobile Workers, which is conducting the motor strike, appealed to all unions in the American Federation of Labor to join them. The U. A. W. was one of the unions suspended from the federation last year for joining John L. Lewis' committee for industrial organization.

This fight for the right to organize is your fight as well as ours," the U. A. W. appeal read. "It is a fight for the American right to belong to a labor union, a right that must remain in effect until further notice."

Inside the levees that surround the city, train loads of sandbags are ready to hurry their load into any crack in bulkheads, no matter how slight. Ready for the catastrophe no one expects, huge barges are docked along the Mississippi levee with gangplanks down, ready to evacuate the city in an emergency.

But those things are precautionary. Levee workers remembered the terse comment of Major General Edward M. Markham, chief of army engineers. He watched the water roll along the seawall, 20 feet above the level of some of the city's streets, and said:

"Cairo is safe behind its seawall."

Catch Them, Hold Them

The law can't do much to punish criminals after they are caught if it can't hold them.

Most all cities and counties are equipped with good jails. It is not often that a suspect or criminal makes his getaway because the cell bars were weak, or the lock wouldn't hold. More often, the officials are at fault for a jail escape. There are few jail-breaks that do not reflect on someone's lack of precaution.

Last Saturday night a suspect was caught in Morgan county, turned over to Greene county, transferred to Madison county, and by some means succeeded in making his escape at Granite City, after being placed in the custody of officials.

Whether Morgan county could have brought a valid charge against the man is a question. He was acting suspiciously here, and was found to have in his possession stolen property from White Hall. Greene county no doubt had a clean-cut case against the suspect, and could have made it stick.

But Granite City officers wanted the prisoner worse. They took him down there, and now he is free without the formality of a trial. He walked out of jail in some unknown manner.

The Granite City officers wanted the suspect—now it's up to them to catch him again. Morgan county did its part; Greene county was willing to do its duty in prosecuting the prisoner. The three counties, it seems, have an interest in seeing the man reapprehended and brought to justice.

Granite City officers may not have been at fault—yet they haven't the prisoner now to show for the work already put in on the case. The custody of the suspect was entrusted to them by officials of another county. It would seem that the officers responsible for the safe-keeping of the prisoner would make especially strong efforts to find him.

It is discouraging for officers who work conscientiously on a case to learn that the bird has flown, and that their efforts have gone for naught.

Cleaning up Old Taxes

Rock Island county is one of the Illinois political divisions which has made a creditable showing in gathering in large sums from overdue taxes, dating back as far as 1929.

According to the newspapers of that county, at the end of the year 1935, the sum of $64,800 was owing on delinquent taxes by citizens of the county to various political units, municipal corporations, the county, townships, schools and other units.

Taking advantage of provisions of a special law, the different political agencies united in a drive to get in the money on these large delinquencies.

The figures just announced by the newspapers indicate that in the last six months of 1936, there were collected a total of $229,520 of these back taxes. A newspaper advertising campaign to tell the people why it was necessary that these old records be cleared up was an important factor in the success of the movement. It demonstrated that thousands of taxpayers would come across with the money on overdue taxes when they understood the true situation and that the usual penalties were waived.

Two-Job Legislators

Again it has been raised for the wroth of the members of the Illinois legislature—the old ghost of the sin of a member holding some other political job for which he draws pay.

The matter is brought into the spotlight just now by Senator L. O. Williams of Clinton. In other years, other senators or representatives sprung the trap.

The theory behind the alleged wickedness of a two job member is that his revenues from the other job must necessarily influence his action in opposing or sponsoring. His vote, in the house or senate, is tinctured with suspicion that he has some ulterior motive in his action.

There is a constitutional ban on any person holding lucrative jobs in the federal or state governments from sitting in the legislature while occupying these positions. But usually this prohibition slumbers in peace until some member cites specific instances. Just now Senator Williams wants an investigation of certain alleged improprieties among members who have fat incomes from Chicago jobs while they sit at Springfield, directing the course of legislation. The investigation should be thorough, not making fish of one and fowl of another.

More Marriages

There were more marriages in Morgan county during 1936 than for a number of years, reflecting the general trend throughout the country. For Americans are marrying again; there were more weddings in 1935 than in any other year in our history, with 1041 marriages per thousand of population. Figures for the past year, not yet compiled, no doubt would show a further gain in nuptial ceremonies.

The marriage rate fell to an all time low of 7.86 in 1932. Statistics indicate that three-quarters of a million fewer marriages than normal took place between 1930 and 1935, marriages which would have produced one million children during those years.

An accelerated marriage rate may eventually recapture some of those who have been putting marriage off because of depression, but not all of them. Some have died, some have changed their minds.

Divorces likewise decrease in depression and increase as prosperity returns. There would have been 171,000 more divorces in recent years had the averages been maintained, and 1935 set a new high record of 218,000 in a single year.

People have apparently been saving up to pay for one. Three-fourths of us are married by the time we are 34; the proportion never gets much higher. About 80 percent at 44 is tops.

No Knee Breeches

Benjamin Franklin, Thomas Jefferson and James Madison, calling on the capitals of Europe as representatives of the United States government in the early years of the republic, became known not alone for their hard sense in deporting themselves in an official way, but also for their simplicity of dress and manner in contrast to the gaudy clothes and stilted formalism which marked the conduct of envoys from other countries.

In the hundred and fifty years since we first began to send government ministers and ambassadors to the European chancelleries, there has been much pressure to get Americans to adopt the "court" customs of other nations. Just now another drive to that end is on. Diplomats of other governments may wonder why the Americans don't appear on formal occasions wearing knee breeches, gold braid and other fancy ornaments. Some of the Americans now at European capitals feel the urge and might have adopted these gaudy habiliments.

But Uncle Sam has put the kibosh on such foolishness.

In an executive order from the President it is decreed that no person in the U. S. diplomatic service shall wear "any uniform or official costume not previously authorized by Congress."

Washington society is pretty rigid in demanding the wearing of spiketails and such at formal evening parties in official circles. But our men who go abroad must not dispel the idea in foreign capitals that we are still a simple and unspoiled people.

Sounds Like Prosperity

The heaviest business in years is now being carried on over this division of the Burlington railroad, according to reports from Beardstown which is a junction for two lines. Trains are being run north and south as fast as engines can be made ready. Four new brakemen were employed last week, all old brakemen having been previously called back.

Five new switchmen have been employed in the Beardstown yards, making 22 switchmen on the list now. Men are back on the job who have had only an occasional day's work in a long time.

All mines along the Burlington route are working, and in spite of the heavy loadings, there were but a few no-bills on the tracks the first of this week.

Ninety-five men are now employed at the Centralia car shops and several additional men have been employed at Herrin Junction and other points in the mining territory the number of car men now being employed is higher than ever before.

These facts seem to foreshadow a period of business prosperity for the railroads, at least through this section of the country. The railroads always have been regarded as an indicator of general business conditions.

The revival of business on the "Q" will be regarded with interest. If the locomotives keep puffing and the coal drags rumbling along, the spirit of industry may be catching. Other enterprises may show signs of rejuvenation and follow the "Q" trains down the line to better times.

A Feast of History

Jacksonville clubs and organizations will not lack program material during this month. February 12 is the birthday anniversary of Abraham Lincoln; February 22 is the anniversary of the birth of George Washington. February always brings a revival of incidents and stories in the lives of these two great Americans.

Morgan county citizens derive special pleasure from studying Lincoln lore. Abraham Lincoln lived in

The Observatory

Little Betty had been served with a chicken wing. After working it for some time, she said: "Mother dear, do you mind if I have something else besides the hedges?"

Applicant—I ought to have. I cooked for a camping party last summer.

Begin Construction Of New Gravel Road

Greene County to Provide Loop for All-Weather Traffic; Other News

White Hall—Paul Fenity, county superintendent of highways, announced Monday that building on the new gravel road north of Patterson along Field's Lane, a distance of three miles, had begun. Crushed rock is being used for the road bed and the rock is being crushed at the Schutz Mill quarry west of White Hall. The road will extend north from Patterson in Greene county to the Scott county line to connect eventually with a gravel road from Alsey and Glasgow. This road is a different route to the Alsey to White Hall hard road which is now under construction. The grading for the pavement has already been done and as soon as weather conditions are suitable the contract for the paving will be let and that road will be built this spring. The gravel road and the pavement will form a loop between White Hall and Alsey which will provide an all weather road for a large territory including the apple orchard districts in northwestern Greene county.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Caused by Tired Kidneys

Many of those aches, napping, painful backaches people complain of, or strains are often caused by tired kidneys and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids out of the blood and wastes out of the blood. Most people pass about two pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

If you take poisons, waste matter stays in the body. These poisons may start muscle aches, rheumatic pains, lumbago, loss of pep, and trouble getting up nights, swelling, pain under shoulder blades, etc.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills. These are happy relief and will help the miles of tissue tubes that carry poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Mt. Pulaski, Chapin To Come Here For Games At J. H. S. And Rount Tonight; Schedule Full

Local Games Tonight
Mt. Pulaski at J. H. S. (2 games).
Chapin at Rount (1 game).
David Prince at St. Patricks (1 game).

Mt. Pulaski, one of the teams picked to go to the state finals at Champaign this year by experts all over the state, and one of the teams which reached the semi-finals last year, will play J. H. S. on the David Prince court in a double header, and Rount high will take on Chapin in the second of three county conference games tonight.

The Hilltoppers have been dropping almost everything that came their way this year, losing only one or two games. The Crimsons likewise have been rapping on the door of fame, giving Rushville a terrific battle before losing two point decision, and then fighting through three overtimes to hand White Hall its second defeat of the year.

Second teams from the two schools will clash at 7 p. m., and the two varieties will meet about 8:15. Coach Frank Walker said last night that he probably would start Henry and Leopold, forward, Baptist center, and Abel and Johnston guards. The Crimsons will play Winchester here Saturday night.

St. Louis Man Twists Back in Helping Dog Through Fence Last Sunday

Jerseyville—Elon Godar of St. Louis, who has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Sanders in Jerseyville, is recuperating from a back injury received while a guest here.

Godar, with his wife and daughter, and his mother, Mrs. Mae Godar, all of St. Louis, came here Sunday morning to spend the day at the Sanders home. Later in the day Sanders and Godar took the former's dog and went on a short hunting trip. The men climbed a fence, and when the dog could not make the climb, Godar stooped to lift the lower strand on the fence. In so doing the St. Louis man twisted his back painfully and it was necessary for him to remain in Jerseyville until Monday. He was treated by a local physician.

WHITE HALL FARMER GETS BACK MONEY

Lost $102 on Streets; Gets Results From Campaign

White Hall.—Louis Winters, farmer of near White Hall, spent a few uncomfortable hours here Tuesday, but his vigorous campaign to find $102 which fell out of his pocket brought results.

The money had been placed in his watch pocket shortly after he cashed a check at the White Hall National bank. He left the bank, and after stopping in several places, discovered that the money was gone.

He immediately retraced his steps, but couldn't find the money. He went to the grade school and through the cooperation of the school teachers, had an announcement made to the effect that he had lost the money.

Margaret Taylor, 12 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Taylor, reported that she had found the money and had taken it to her home. Mr. Winters went to the Taylor home, received his money, and gave the grade school miss a substantial reward.

The contention of General Motors officials that they have the law on their side, even though sitdown strikers refuse to budge from G. M. plants, was given fanciful support by an odd and wholly accidental trick of the camera when this picture was made. It shows Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., General Motors president, his face plainly showing his concern, as he left his Broadway office amidst the bust of U. A. W. pickets. Altogether by chance, the photograph caught the reflection of a policeman who escorted Sloan to his car and appears to place the officer's badge on the G. M. executive's own coat lapel.

Lecturer Who Appeared Here Last Year to Speak on "Affairs in Pacific"

Harry N. Holmes, well-known lecturer on foreign affairs and the Pacific ocean, has been chosen to deliver the fourth Illinois College Rambler lecture of the year on Tuesday, February 16. Mr. Holmes will speak on "The Current Situation in the Pacific."

Mr. Holmes needs no introduction to most Illinois College upperclassmen and many townspeople, having spoken here in January, 1936. At that time, Mr. Holmes spoke twice on the college campus and also at the local Kiwanis club on the famous British South African empire builder, Cecil Rhodes.

The speaker has been very active in Kiwanis work and was President Jaquith's predecessor as president of the New York club. President Jaquith has been personally acquainted with Mr. Holmes for several years.

For twenty years Mr. Holmes was associated with the Y.M.C.A. in its activities in many parts of the world. In 1912, at the request of Fred B. Smith of the International Committee of America, he joined the "Men and Religion" movement and under its auspices made a tour of the world. On his way back to the United States he was persuaded to remain in South Africa for two and one-half years as national secretary of the Y.M.C.A.

In 1915, he took charge of the Y. M. C. A. work with the troops of General Botha and General Smuts, and continued in this position throughout the campaign in German S. W. Africa. Later, for three and one-half years, he had charge of Y.M.C.A. work in the forward areas of the British armies in France and Flanders.

Escaped from Sinking Ship

During this period, he made two trips to the United States and Canada to fulfill speaking engagements. He passed through thrilling experiences, including a very narrow escape from death in 1918 when the ship on which he and Mrs. Holmes were returning to Europe was torpedoed and sank in fifteen minutes.

In 1923, he returned to the United States to become field secretary of World Alliance for International Friendship Through the Churches, bringing to this position a wide knowledge gained from contact with personalities who are molding public opinion all over the world. In 1925, he traveled for six months in countries around the Pacific and was a delegate to the first Institute of Pacific Relations, held in Honolulu.

Stock Market Rests After Steady Gain

New York, Feb. 4.—(P)—After five consecutive advancing sessions, the stock market today took a breathing spell.

Up and down trends prevailed throughout the proceedings, although there was selective improvement in Motors strike negotiators might have good news to impart later. There the final hour upon reports General was nothing definite from this sector, however, before the close.

U. S. Steel had a brief moment when it held the attention of the entire stock exchange. This bellwether, on an opening block of 5,000 shares, hit par for the first time since May, 1931. The cheering of brokers and clerks had hardly started, though, when "big steel" slipped back under pressure of offerings. It ended with a net loss of 1 of a point at 80.

Favorable steels, oils and specialties, despite obvious weariness of the list, managed to emerge with advances of fractions to around 3 points, a number of new recovery tops.

The mid-and-tuck race was exemplified by the Associated Press average of 60 issues which posted a decline of 1 of a point at 73. Except for a fast start, when the ticker tape lagged a bit, trading was comparatively slow. Transfers totaled 2,388; 480 shares against 2,451,570 yesterday.

Large Hog Shipment Cancels Price Gain

Chicago, Feb. 4.—(P)—Producers unloaded a larger supply of hogs here today to take advantage of the sharp price upturn early this week but in so doing caused a 10 to 15 cents and in some cases 20 cents drop in values.

The swine supply was stepped up to 27,000 head, by far the biggest of the week and well above advance estimates, but this only returned market control to buyers who demanded that some of the week's upturn of around 50 cents per hundredweight be taken off. Top sank 15 cents to $10.30.

With cattle supplies so far this week in the major markets, including Chicago, sharply below the previous week, buyers were in today's market for numbers, largely disregarding selectivity. They bid steers and yearlings upward 25 cents but it was a forced advance because actually the trade had a weak undertone due to the sluggish dressed meat demand. The steer top was $14.35, with the bulk of best beeves quoted at $12.50 to $14.

Fat lambs advanced as much as 25 cents, top rising to $10.85.

The sharp curtailment of receipts in all branches of the trade so far this week, livestock men said, was largely the result of last week's price break.

Wrens Trapping Season Is Over

A warning that the season on fur-bearing animals closed last Monday was issued by Director Charles F. Thompson of the state department of conservation. The director said he had received word that some trapping still was being done yesterday.

The Feb. 1 date is effective only in the central zone, which includes all counties in the central section of the state. The season closed in southern Illinois Jan. 15, but it will not close in the northern zone until March 15.

Canine Rabies Shows Increase in State

Dr. Frank J. Jirka, director of the state department of health, said yesterday that the prevalence of canine rabies increased sharply in the state last week. He predicted that between two and three thousand persons will receive rabies treatment during the coming six months.

Out of nine dogs' heads from seven counties examined in the state diagnostic laboratories last week, five showed positive evidence of hydrophobia. Antirabic vaccine was provided by the state for the treatment of 115 dogs.

This year fifty-eight dog heads have been examined and thirty of these were positive for rabies.

Heads examined were from the counties of Crawford, Cook, Jackson, Macoupin, Sangamon, Shelby and Union. Last year nine persons died in Illinois of rabies and 5,336 were given postural treatment.

WHEAT PRICES JUMP

Chicago, Feb. 4.—(P)—With fresh overnight jumps of three cents in Liverpool prices, the Chicago wheat market scored material new upturns early today. Reports of further purchases of Argentine wheat for Germany, as well as good demand by other European countries, were a stimulating factor.

Opening 4-11 cents higher, May 1.324-5, July 1.15-1.15, Chicago wheat futures held near them to this range. Corn started 1-11 up, May new, 1.08-1.14; July 1.02-1.02, and afterward reacted somewhat.

Farm and Rural Interest

Cass County Farmers Organize for Soil Conservation Program; Committees for Each Township Selected; Trapping Season Closed; Best Potatoes Listed

Community committees consisting of four farmers from each township in Cass county were elected at the recent series of meetings for the 1937 soil conservation program, which was held throughout the county. The chairman of each of these community committees met in Virginia and elected the County committee, which will be the same as for the 1936 program and which is as follows:

President—H. H. Conover.
Vice-president—John H. Taylor.
Secretary-treasurer—J. E. Edwards.

The Allotment or County committee will be the same as last year, which will be: H. H. Conover, John H. Taylor and Herbert Pilger. All of these men have been closely identified with the government programs since they began in 1933. The township committees selected at the various meetings are as follows:

Arenzville—R. J. Myer, Charles H. Funk, Chris Lovkamp, Felix Krohe, Ashland—Charles J. Votsmer, Lloyd Thorley, Walter Sever, Herman Scheve.

Beardstown—Charles Bowman, L. A. Fast, K. M. Morrison, Edwin B. Treadaway.

In the early potatoes only the Early Ohio and Irish Cobbler can be recommended without reserve," he said. "Triumph does well in southern Illinois, but not so well in other sections of the state. Warba, a very early potato variety bred at the University of Minnesota, is worthy of trial."

In the late potato varieties, Rural New Yorker and its close relatives, Carmen No. 3 and Sir Walter Raleigh, together with their russeted cousin, the Russet Russet, have the field practically to themselves. Katahdin and Chippewa are excellent varieties which Somers lists as worth consideration.

Although too rough for commercial production, Peachblow has been found to be a good home garden variety in many sections of the state. Somers points out that this variety has been broken into many subvarieties and strains.

Burbanks and Idaho Russets from California and Idaho, Red McClure and Brown Beauty from Colorado and Green Mountain from northern Wisconsin and from Maine are good potato varieties, but are unsuited to Illinois climatic conditions, he warns.

Erosion Added to Damage From Mid-winter "lood"

Although many sections of Illinois escaped flood damage from mid-winter rains, few fields escape erosion damage unless protected by vegetation, terraces or both, according to the agronomy and engineering departments of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

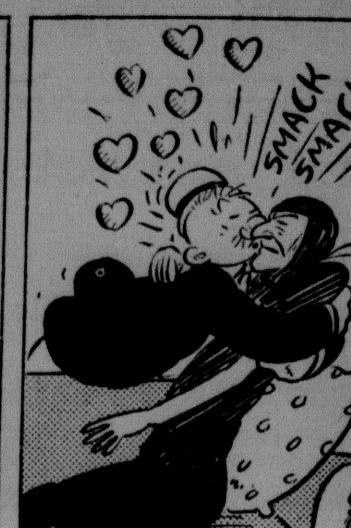

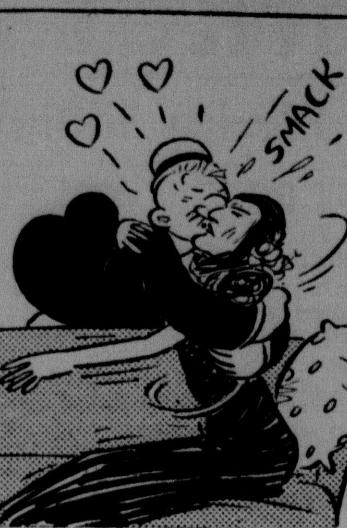

Various kinds of vegetation differ in their effectiveness in preventing erosion, with pastures, meadow crops and trees most efficient.

Tests show that almost no soil is lost from good bluegrass sod. At Janesville in Ohio, a state hard-hit by the mid-winter floods, results of tests indicate that 23,200 yards would be required to strip 7 inches of top soil from a field of bluegrass on a 12 per cent slope, while on similar land cropped continuously to corn 7 inches of surface soil would be removed in 19 years.

Trees are also effective in controlling erosion. However, authorities agree that both trees and pastures must be properly managed if maximum protection is to be afforded. It is best if wooded areas are not grazed or burned. It also pays to leave a part of the season's growth on rolling pastures if the land is to be protected from erosion during the following winter and early spring.

Cultivated row crops furnish the least protection to soil. To lessen damage from erosion the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, other colleges and practical farmers have devised improved rotations. Cover crops, strip cropping and contour

DETECTIVE OFFICER NEAMES'S SHORTHAND NOTES OF DETECTIVE OFFICER KETTERING'S EXAMINATION OF THE VERY REV. DR. STAPLETON THOMAS, D. D., THE LORD BISHOP OF BUDE.

K: Good morning, Lady Welter.

L. W.: Take a chair, please.

K: Just as you wish, lady.

L. W.: What is it you wish to see me about?

K: Isn't that rather obvious? You know that I'm the officer in charge of the investigation of Mr. Blane's death.

L. W.: And what has that to do with me?

K: Nothing—nothing, as far as I know, Lady Welter, but this is just a matter of routine and you won't mind answering a few questions. I'm here.

L. W.: That all depends on the questions, young man.

K: Well, they're quite simple.

It's just a matter of routine checking up, and I'd like you to tell me just what your movements were between the time of the yacht sailing from Miami and your going in to dinner last night.

L. W.: Are you accusing me . . .

K: Now, now, have a heart, please. I'm not accusing anyone of anything, but it's my duty to get all these details which may seem stupid to you. Where were you when the ship sailed?

L. W.: I was on deck talking to the Bishop of Bude.

K: You saw the tender come off, then?

L. W.: I did and the bishop said to me, "That's Mr. Bolitho Blane," as the two men came up the gangway in to the middle of the ship.

K: The bishop knew Blane by sight, then?

L. W.: I don't know. I suppose so.

K: Right, what happened after that?

L. W.: The bishop and I went down to our cabins. When I came up to the lounge I found Mr. Rockavage with Mr. Blane's secretary and the bishop. The secretary was introduced to me and we sat there until Mr. Rockavage left.

K: What time was that?

L. W.: I really haven't the faintest idea. What has all this to do?

K: Patience, please. What happened after Mr. Rockavage left the lounge?

L. W.: If you must know, the Japanese gentleman came in and then my daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jocelyn. After the dinner bugle sounded Mr. Rockavage came in, too, but he went downstairs almost at once and older he was looking.

K: You knew him before then?

B: I would hardly say that I knew him, but we met once about seven years ago. He was staying in an English country house where I also changed to be a guest.

K: What happened after that?

B: Lady Welter and I went below shortly after the ship sailed. I changed for dinner and came up to the lounge at 8 o'clock.

K: Thanks, Bishop. That's all nice and clear. Now, what can you tell me about the objects of this party?

B: Well, it's just a pleasure trip, you know. I had hoped that it would be a most pleasant relaxation from my arduous duties. I have a large flock you know—a large flock.

K: But you didn't actually know that this trip was cover for a big business deal in which Rockavage, Bolitho Blane and Lady Welter were concerned?

B: No, I was not actually aware of that.

(AT THIS POINT STODART, WHOM WE HAD SENT FOR EARLIER FOR THE PURPOSE OF GETTING A FLASH PHOTOGRAPH OF HIM, CAME INTO THE CABIN. I SNAPPED HIM AS HE ENTERED. WE THEN SAW THAT THE BISHOP HAD COLLAPSED IN HIS CHAIR. AFTER A MOMENT HE CAME ROUND OUT OF HIS FAINT, APOLOGIZED AND MENTIONED THAT HE HAD NO BREAKFAST, ALSO THAT HE SUFFERED FROM HIS HEART. DETECTIVE OFFICER KETTERING, HAVING CONCLUDED HIS EXAMINATION, HE ALLOWED THE BISHOP TO WITHDRAW IN STODART'S COMPANY.)

B: Good morning Bishop.

B: Good morning—good morning. This is a very distressing affair—very distressing.

K: It certainly is, and I am sure you will forgive me bothering you, but I have got to ask you just a few questions, so that I can check up on events last night. Now, perhaps you'll tell me what you were doing between the time of the ship sailing and going to dinner last night.

B: I was standing by the after-rail on the starboard side of the ship, with Lady Welter, when we left Miami.

K: You saw Blane and his sec-

tary come aboard, then?

B: Yes.

K: You are quite certain that it was Blane?

B: Oh, yes, I remebered to Lady Welter at the time how very much

Women's Work Is Discussed at Club Meeting Monday

Representative Van der Vries Is Speaker at B.P.W.C. Session

Stressing the importance of "Women's Work" in welfare, education, homemaking, labor laws and many other departments, Mrs. Bernice Van der Vries, of Winnetka, representative from the seventh senatorial district, addressed the members of the Business and Professional Woman's club Thursday evening at the Peacock Inn.

Following the supper, the president, Miss Hester Burbridge, opened the meeting and presented the chairman of the evening, Mrs. Lillian I. Danskin. Introducing the speaker, Mrs. Danskin spoke of the program of legislation in which the club was interested and the women, who were furthering the passage of important bills, among them. Mrs. Van der Vries, who was elected to the General Assembly in 1935 and re-elected in November, 1936.

Selecting as her subject "Adventures in Legislation," Mrs. Van der Vries urged greater activity among women in legislation, stating that it seemed necessary to band together in efforts for more women to hold public office. "Women are a novelty among the men in the General Assembly. The number is diminishing and at present there are only two. It has been quoted by national leaders, Miss Charl O. Williams, of the Business and Professional Women's club, that there are 50,000 offices available for women in various capacities. However, there are no women governors, very few in the legislatures and in Congress, and not many on school boards.

"Among the points emphasized in Governor Horner's message, one of the most important," said the speaker, "is the consideration of the state school board. The state school board has been a success in other states and is needed in Illinois. The bill calls for nine members and not more than three members from one district.

"The schools are going to be interested in this legislation, for it gives power to the board to wipe out all districts which have not more than an average of ten in attendance. This board should work with the agricultural association, for a good road program." According to statistics presented by Mrs. Van der Vries over 600 districts are functioning with an average of ten or under.

Mrs. Van der Vries spoke of the bills which were introduced in the legislature Tuesday, discussing the bill introduced by Senator James Monroe, which amends women's 10-hour law to make it eight hours, excepting hotels, restaurants and mercantile establishments, as good, but stated that it had many exemptions which would probably cause much controversy. She also called attention to the Drivers' Licenses Law and the law for women serving on juries.

Preceding the address the men's octette from Illinois College gave three selections, which were a delightful feature of the program.

Guests at the meeting were Miss Dorothy Palmer, of Chicago, national officer of the Girl Scouts; Mrs. Fred Hopper, Mrs. M. J. Donahoe, Mrs. Edward Alexander, Mrs. A. A. Martin, Mrs. H. E. Schmidt.

The meeting was arranged by the legislation committee, with Mrs. Lillian Danskin as chairman, assisted by Mrs. Catherine Stout, Mrs. Oliver M. Page, Mrs. Anna Rogerson and Miss Harriet Andre. The supper committee included Miss Jennie Rabjohns, Miss Fern Taylor, Mrs. Sara Miller.

The next meeting will be in charge of the International Relations committee, Miss Opal Tillman as chairman, on February 18. The supper committee will be Miss Agnes Paxton, Miss Lila Elliott and Miss Martha Mason.

Miss Burbridge announced that the next executive board meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. B. Applebee on Monday evening at 5:00 o'clock. There will be a business meeting before the pot-luck supper.
